KEN CALVERT

“People are losing their jobs and yet the leadership in Congress refuses to buckle down, restrain spending, and enact policies that will ease the financial burdens of the American people and create jobs. Unemployment continues to rise while Speaker Pelosi and Democrats in Washington push forward on massive new expansions of the federal government, which will most likely be paid for by future tax increases. Every vote I cast is with my constituents in mind and I will continue to vote against legislation that further bloats the federal government and encroaches on the liberty of the American people.”

“While the House Democratic Leadership pushes expensive changes to the American economy, such as government-run health care and cap-and-trade legislation, the question that should be asked every day on Capitol Hill is simply, 'Where are the jobs?' Congress must reduce spending, lower taxes on all Americans and target the limited spending on infrastructure projects that will put people to work.”
